

VYHLÁSENIE KANDIDATÚRY

pre voľby starostu obce

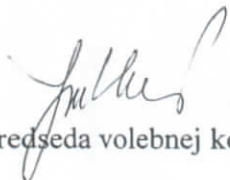

v Bzinciach pod Javorinou

15. novembra 2014

Miestna volebná komisia v Bzinciach pod Javorinou podľa § 23 zákona SNR č. 346/1990 Zb. o voľbách do orgánov samosprávy obcí v znení neskorších predpisov vyhlasuje, že pre voľby starostu obce zaregistrovala týchto kandidátov:

1. Pavel Bahník, Ing. 58 r., starosta obce, Bzince pod Javorinou 259,
SMER – sociálna demokracia
2. Jana Bilová Majtášová, Mgr., 32 r., vyššia súdna úradníčka, Bzince pod Javorinou 949, SIEŤ
3. Eva Gregušová, Ing., 58 r., stavebná inžinierka, kontrolná manažérka, Bzince pod
Javorinou 236, Slovenská národná strana
4. Drahomíra Koníková, 63 r., špeciálna pedagogička, Bzince pod Javorinou 602,
Strana demokratického Slovenska
5. Alena Šoltysová, Ing., 46 r., ekonómka, Bzince pod Javorinou 1527, nezávislá kandidátka

V Bzinciach pod Javorinou
Dátum: 25.september 2014

predseda volebnej komisie

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (19.5% of the population).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (i) Older people should be able to live independently and actively in their own homes.
- (ii) Older people should be able to live in their own communities, and be able to participate in the life of their communities.
- (iii) Older people should be able to live in good health, and be able to manage their own health.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (iv) Older people should be able to live in good financial circumstances, and be able to manage their own finances.
- (v) Older people should be able to live in good social circumstances, and be able to manage their own social relationships.
- (vi) Older people should be able to live in good mental health, and be able to manage their own mental health.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (vii) Older people should be able to live in good physical health, and be able to manage their own physical health.
- (viii) Older people should be able to live in good cognitive health, and be able to manage their own cognitive health.
- (ix) Older people should be able to live in good emotional health, and be able to manage their own emotional health.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (x) Older people should be able to live in good spiritual health, and be able to manage their own spiritual health.
- (xi) Older people should be able to live in good cultural health, and be able to manage their own cultural health.
- (xii) Older people should be able to live in good environmental health, and be able to manage their own environmental health.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (xiii) Older people should be able to live in good social health, and be able to manage their own social health.
- (xiv) Older people should be able to live in good economic health, and be able to manage their own economic health.
- (xv) Older people should be able to live in good political health, and be able to manage their own political health.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century in the White Paper on Ageing Better: The Government's Strategy for Older People (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy is based on the following principles:

- (xvi) Older people should be able to live in good cultural health, and be able to manage their own cultural health.
- (xvii) Older people should be able to live in good environmental health, and be able to manage their own environmental health.
- (xviii) Older people should be able to live in good social health, and be able to manage their own social health.